THE ULTIMATE 'SEAL OF EXCELLENCE'

Chesterfield, UK-based The Corrugated Case Company Ltd has confirmed that they passed the BPIF's audit for the prestigious 'Health and Safety Seal of Excellence' with flying colours. Following two years of concerted effort from the company, the audit took place on Wednesday 26th March and resulted in a 98 per cent compliance.

Managing Director, Mark Wilcockson explains, "We chose the BPIF's 'Seal of Excellence' rather than ISO18001 due to its more rigorous nature and the fact that it better represented the company and our industry sector. We are very pleased to achieve this certification and proud of the work that Rob Roe, Quality, Health and Safety Manager and all the team here in Danesmoor have undertaken and maintained."

He continues, "This now sets a standard for our business and we now are aiming to achieve the BPIF's 'Seal of Excellence' in HR and Environment before the end of 2014. We would also like to put on the record our thanks to Linda Taylor, BPIF's H&S Advisor, who has accompanied and guided us through this journey over the last two years."

HAMBURGER PRICE INCREASE

It has been reported that Hamburger Containerboard has raised its prices by €50 per tonne from 1st April for all its white top liners. The company stated that sustained demand was the reason for the increase — backed up by the fact that all paper produced over winter and stocked for summer use has already been sold.
